

THE TWENTY-FIFTH NATIONAL ANTI-SLAVERY

ANNIVERSARY.

MUSIC HALL,

WINTER STREET,

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 26, 1859.

TO COMMENCE AT HALF PAST SEVEN O'CLOCK.

Admit

Name,

Address,

Dear Mr. Garrison, Thursday afternoon.
Since writing to you
this morning, I have received the enclosed from Samuel Longfellow. Will
you kindly leave it at
Mr. Dwight's office, at Ditson's Music-Store, for his wife who was your dear old friend Miss Bullard 7 years gone; & she will add it to the sheet she is preparing for the printer.

If you could see her (but it is so far off - 8 Charles Street,) it would be well.
Mrs Tollen writes the others.

THE TWENTY-FIFTH NATIONAL ANTI-SLAVERY SUBSCRIPTION ANNIVERSARY.

The Anti-Slavery effort of former years by means of a Fair, will this year be more effectually continued as a financial and social occasion at the MUSIC HALL, Boston, where the Ladies will be assembled from 11 A. M., to 5 P. M., JANUARY 26th, in preparation for their evening reception at the same place at half past seven o'clock.

Trusting that the assistance and purchase of former years was not wholly prompted by considerations of taste or convenience, but that, however differing in some questions of detail, our visitors yet sympathized in the great religious and political principles that form the basis of the Anti-Slavery movement, we cordially invite them to call during the day and become subscribers, (and no man that is the type of sympathy is accounted small by us,) and to make their evening visit between 7 and 11 o'clock.

Cloak rooms will be arranged for the latter occasion, to avoid risk of taking cold, as the music, conversation, addresses, consultation and subscription will unavoidably occupy time enough to make a demi-toilette desirable.

No entrance fee - but this note previously countersigned with the names and addresses of the persons presenting it, to avoid confusion at the door, will give admission both day and evening.

Duplicates to be had at Messrs. Phillips & Sampson's, 15 Winter Street.
